SEM si prizadeva pospeševati
poznavanje in spoštovanje
etnološke dediščine v družbi

Slovenski etnografski muzej – muzej "o ljudeh, za ljudi", muzej kulturnih istovetnosti, prostor dialoga med preteklim in sedanjim, med svojo in tujimi kulturami, med naravo in civilizacijo – je osrednji etnološki muzej s slovenskimi in zunajevropskimi zbirkami s področij materialne, socialne in duhovne kulture, ki skrbi za njihovo ohranjanje, preučevanje, spoznavanje in razumevanje.

Prek letnega cikla razstav in drugih prireditvev – slovenskih (zamejskih, izseljenskih), drugih evropskih in zunajevropskih –, bogatega izobraževalnega programa in publikacij predstavlja in sporoča védenja o tradicijski kulturi na Slovenskem in o kulturah nekaterih drugih ljudstev sveta; o materialni kulturni dediščini vsakdanjih in prazničnih načinov življenja ter o neoprijemljivi dediščini znanj, vrednotenj, tehnik, modrosti in ustvarjalnosti v slovenskem etničnem prostoru, v diaspori in drugod.

SEM seeks to foster knowledge and appreciation of ethnological heritage in the society

The Slovene Ethnographic Museum – a museum "about people, for people", a museum of cultural identities, the link between the past and the present, between our own and other cultures, between nature and civilisation.

The central museum of ethnology with Slovene and equally important non- European collections in the field of material, social and spiritual culture, which the museum preserves, documents, researches and presents.

Through its annual round of exhibitions and other events – Slovene (minority and expatriate communities), European and non-European – and through its rich educational programme and publications, it presents and reports on traditional culture in Slovenia and the culture of some other of the world's peoples, on the material heritage of both everyday and festive life, and on the intangible heritage of knowledge, values, skills, wisdom and creativity to be found in the Slovene ethnic sphere, both in the diaspora and elsewhere.
